Discussion

Discussion questions:

- Are there efficient procedures for the effective protection of civil servants and public bodies from undue interference and pressure?
- In your country, does the central government and/or the ruling party exercise discretionary funding distribution towards the local-level units (municipalities) to ensure favorable election results and influence local procurement contracts?
- Could you share any good practices of corruption risk assessment methodologies (including the use of big data, and inter-connected registers) applied in a particularly vulnerable corruption sector, region, or area?
- What are the main challenges in achieving budget transparency and wide budget consultations with civil society at the national and local levels?

Moderator: Aneta Arnaudovska, Expert of the Regional Anti-Corruption Initiative Secretariat

12:30 CET

Closing
