

SELDI MARKS THE 20TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE UNITED NATIONS CONVENTION AGAINST CORRUPTION

SELDI recognizes the critical role of the United Nations Convention Against Corruption (UNCAC) in combatting corruption globally. As a leading regional alliance committed to fostering transparency and integrity, we affirm our support for the principles enshrined within the UNCAC framework.

Building on our regional expertise and collective determination, SELDI aligns its efforts with the objectives of the UNCAC:

Enhanced Regional Collaboration: SELDI commits to intensifying collaboration with regional stakeholders, including governments, civil society organizations, and international partners, to strengthen anticorruption measures. By promoting cross-border cooperation, information exchange, and best practice sharing, we aim to bolster regional resilience against corrupt practices.

Capacity Building and Knowledge Sharing: SELDI prioritizes capacity-building and knowledge-sharing initiatives to empower stakeholders with the necessary skills and expertise to implement effective anticorruption strategies. These initiatives also encompass dissemination of research findings, fostering a culture of integrity and accountability across Southeast Europe.

Advocacy and Awareness Campaigns: SELDI spearhead advocacy to raise public awareness about the damaging impact of corruption on societal development. By engaging with media outlets and community forums, we seek to mobilize public support for anti-corruption measures and foster a culture of intolerance towards corrupt practices.

Policy Recommendations and Legislative Reforms: SELDI collaborates with national and regional policymakers to provide evidence-based policy recommendations and advocate for legislative reforms that align with the UNCAC provisions. Through constructive dialogue and policy advocacy, we aim to facilitate the adoption of robust legal frameworks that promote transparency, accountability, and the rule of law.

Monitoring and Evaluation Mechanisms: SELDI designed and implements robust corruption monitoring tools to assess the implementation of anticorruption measures across the region. By employing comprehensive monitoring tools and indicators, we seek to track progress, identify challenges, and ensure the effective enforcement of anticorruption policies.

SELDI remains steadfast in its commitment to fostering a culture of integrity, transparency, and accountability in Southeast Europe. By aligning our initiatives with the UNCAC framework, we strive to contribute to a global movement aimed at eradicating corruption and promoting sustainable development for all.
